Freshmen officially welcomed

Freshmen from across the world were greeted last weekend by the MLC resident assistant staff who, with help from MLC President Zarling, carried essential items needed to transform a dorm room into their new home. The 175 new students then learned about the library, cafeteria, computer network, and campus security technology while parents met with the MLC administration and advisors on academics, financial aid, and students adapting to college life. Orientation culminated with a campus picnic, followed by a reception for parents and a freshman mixer (pictured) at George's Ballroom.

"You will shine like stars."

Philippians 2:12-16 was the sermon text for the MLC Opening Service Monday, August 25. President Zarling encouraged the MLC family to "hold out the word of life" to each other on campus as we focus all aspects of MLC life on the salvation won for us in Jesus Christ. Seven faculty members were installed: Prof. Joyce Diels, Instructor Daniel Gawrisch, Prof. John Meyer, Prof. Jonathon Roux (pictured), Prof. David Schroeder, Tutor Jesse Stern, and Prof. Jeffery Wiechman.

What's new?

In addition to the construction of the Chapel of the Christ (Excavation for the chapel basement should be finished this week.) other summer campus improvements will benefit our MLC students:

- Smartboards, climate controls, and new ceilings and lights added to 11 classrooms (pictured)
- An electronic door lock security system for all campus buildings
- A widened and handicap-accessible entrance in the Wittenberg Collegiate Center
- Continued work on new soccer and baseball fields
