Five By Design Performs on MLC Stage

As many of you make memories together at Shoreland or West for Choral Fest, some MLC students were reminded of their own Choral Fest days. Two years ago at Choral Fest in Manitowoc, Five By Design, a touring singing sensation, gave jazz singing clinics and a splendid performance. Anna Ungemach (Manitowoc) said, “Five By Design was fantastic! After seeing them at Choral Fest 2010, it was great to see them perform in a totally new show!” Their “Club Swing,” which featured many classic big band songs from the 1930s to 1950s, was one of the biggest shows the MLC stage has ever seen. Micah Plocher (MLS) said, “Their harmonies were so tight, and the jazz band was awesome!”

Convocations Encourage, Inspire

Up to eight years away from their first calls, MLC students can sometimes become discouraged or distracted from the purpose of their studies. Convocations point students back to that focus, provide encouragement, and give insights into different aspects of the public ministry. Pastor Tim Bourman of Sure Foundation-NYC shared the challenges and joys of urban ministry with preseminary students this month. Ben Birner (LPS) says, “I always appreciate convocations because they give me a new perspective. I’ve never really thought of serving in a big city before, but maybe that’s the Lord’s plan for me.” Anne Goldschmidt (Whitnall HS-Milwaukee WI) enjoyed hearing from Mr. Dan Albrecht, teacher at St. Jacobi-Greenfield WI. “He showed us what the first years are really going to be like. There are so many things I’ve never thought of. He taught me a lot.”

Episode VI: The Return of the Lip Plumage

It started underground. Slowly but surely, the secret scheme began to surface. Unexplained posters (right) began popping up in random places on campus. The goal of this stealthy mission? Convince Professor Sellnow to let his mustache grow back to the beauty it was in years gone by. This effort reached full force at the talent show when Paul Koester (LPS) and Jake Jenswold (LPS) sang an original composition that encouraged the reappearance of his facial hair. Pressured by all this propaganda, Prof. Sellnow has finally given in. Along with Anchor, our student service club, he has formed “Cash for the Stache,” hoping to raise $1000 to go to the new Early Childhood Learning Center and the local school district. Hopefully students will support this noble cause and make sure Prof. Sellnow’s upper lip stays warm during the blustery New Ulm winter.
