Late Nights at the Caf

MLC's cafeteria is open till midnight, and students enjoy more than just late-night snacks. With the lighting dimmed and music piped in, the caf becomes a lounge where they socialize, play games, and relax. "Late Night is a nice break from homework and dorm life. It's good to socialize in a setting that isn't your room," said Lauren Ewings (Lakeville North HS-MN). On certain nights, the pizza and chicken nuggets come with a side of karaoke, cribbage and euchre tournaments, piano and voice recitals, and even poetry readings. "Events like these are so much fun because they give us opportunity to be with old friends and make new ones," said Katie Schultz (FVL). Pictured: Luke Bramstedt (Manitowoc LHS), Shannon Eggers (KML), and Leah Boeder (MVL) sing karaoke.

Hanging 'Round in the Round Table Room

Speaking of lounges . . . for a year or so, the student lounge at MLC—the Round Table Room—was overrun by 3-, 4-, and 5-year-olds. That's because the little tykes from MLC's Early Childhood Learning Center used it as their classroom while their new center was under construction. But the little ones have moved into their new school, and college students have reclaimed their Round Table Room. "It's a lounge and recreation room," explained Anna Ungemach (Manitowoc LHS). "Students can watch TV or movies with friends; play a game of Ping-Pong, pool, or foosball; play Wii and board games; or sit and chat." Pictured: Megan Ungemach (Manitowoc LHS) plays Wii.

Harvest Hoedown

Too old to trick-or-treat? At MLC, there's a solution. "The Harvest Hoedown is a nifty event where you can enjoy yourself with friends in a Halloween dance party atmosphere," said Eric Uher (WISCO). Here's Eric (right), ready to plunge into his chocolate cream for the pie-eating contest while Mikala Schmitz (Lakeside) and Conifer Berg (LPS) look on. This annual event—bonfire and all—is sponsored by Anchor, MLC's student service organization, to raise money for a worthy cause. This year they raised more than $500 for Lighthouse Youth Center in Milwaukee. Besides that, according to Emily Shank (Michigan LHS), "It's a great excuse to be like a little kid again and dress up in your favorite costume."
